Customer Reviews

As a poet, I am thrilled to have found something that can introduce my granddaughter to the world of poetry. Since I write religious poetry, most of my poems have little appeal for children. But these poems were terrific! I definitely enjoyed several of them just as much as Lexy did. HIGHLY recommended this collection!

"I Thought I Saw a Ghost Last Night: And Other Laugh-Out-Loud Poems for Kids" truly made my 6 year old grandson laugh out loud. His giggles were contagious as we read each poem. These are not poems about cows jumping over the moon but poems about what goes on in a kids world; poems they can relate to and giggle about. My grandson said he could write his own poems and started rhyming words at dinner. I like books that inspire creativity and these do...while you giggle. I Thought I Saw a Ghost Last Night: And Other Laugh-Out-Loud Poems for Kids

I Thought I Saw a Ghost Last Night: And Other Laugh-Out-Loud Poems for Kids Illustrated colorful children's book that are various stories written as poems about scary things. Another book by the author is 'what state am i' this one sounds very educational.

It was a cute book. I ordered it because my grandson loves Shel Silverstein and I thought maybe this book would have poems he would love just as much, but as it turns out he really didn't. It was still a good book for little ones, though.

This book contains short, funny poems with amusing illustrations and will be enjoyed by both children and adults...I think that it is a worthwhile purchase that will make you smile, and highly recommend you give it a try.

I consider myself a bit of a children's poet myself, and I was glad to run across this little book. It had very clever premises for the poems and fun illustrations that will engage kids well. The structure of the poems was sound and I enjoyed the poetry. A fun little book that I would recommend to anyone (especially with kids!).

This is funny and whimsical and well written! A not scary ghost story is right up my alley! I think that the adults reading this to a child will get just as many giggles as the kids! I know I did!
